Sales and operations professional with 10+ years across field merchandising, B2B sales, and hospitality management. Most recently managed a self-directed 570-store retail territory for Altria, executing merchandising standards and building a route optimization system and visit-tracking app to run it more efficiently. Sold POS and payment technology face to face to business owners across the Baltimore-DC corridor, and spent nine years in specialty coffee as a head barista, beverage manager, and café manager, launching seasonal programs and training teams. Strengths in relationship building, independent territory work, staff training, and turning field data into better decisions.
